

Xinalani Retreat Nov 15-22nd, 2014

There is a place, on the southern shore of Banderas Bay in Puerto Vallarta, where the jungle meets the sea.

Where palm-thatched cabins float on stilts, and the warm, sultry air wraps around you like a lover.

Where life-shifting sex is the only thing on your agenda. And where hearts + minds open, to new possibilities. A more turned-on way of living. A more enlightened way of being.

Xinalani is an eco-luxe resort, where I've experienced some of the most rejuvenating sex, cuisine, yoga + spa rituals of my life.

And this April, I'm bringing eight couples—and a handful of adventurous singles—to Xinalani, for six days of sensual exploration, sexual mastery, heart-opening lessons, erotic inspiration + wild exhilaration. To say I'm excited is the understatement of the century.

You need to be there with me.

Here's what will happen when you come:

: You'll step into a sexual sanctuary. Your Anami Retreat is truly a mind, heart + hot sex immersion. You'll enjoy catered meals, cooking classes, yoga, meditation—and of course, scheduled sex dates, with yourself or your partner. And just what happens, when you devote three-plus hours a day to sexual play? You'll find out...

: You'll have my intuition, wisdom + full attention. In small groups + salons that meet every day, we'll expand your erotic imagination with new skills, techniques and practices. Your questions will be answered. Your life force will be stoked. You'll find the soaring intersection of spirit + sex. And stay there.

: You won't know what's next. But you'll love every moment. While you're off completing your erotic assignments, I'll be arranging luxurious surprises—like fabulous sex toys, housemade truffles, and bottles of sparkling wine, delivered to your suite—to make your unplugged adventure even more unforgettable.

: You go home—and step into your life with unbridled energy, charisma, and magnetism. That's the power of sexual energy, unleashed. Just get ready. (And warn your friends.)

Off-the-grid and in your center

I'm a huge believer in getting off-the-grid to recharge.
You recalibrate faster.
It's easier to tune into your own natural rhythms, impulses and each other.
With no distractions.

Xinalani: Soul Sanctuary

Xinalani means “seeds” in pre-Hispanic language.

Xinalani is about discovery, admiration, nature, magic, conscious travel, eco-adventure, wellness, serenity and mindful living. It aims to reveal the beauty of an unknown Mexico and create eye-opening vacations that inspire transformation. Perfect!

Xinalani is set amongst 10 acres of splendid unspoiled jungle on the southern shore of Banderas Bay in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. Only 12 miles south of Puerto Vallarta International Airport & Marina, the Xinalani Retreat quiet waters and pristine sand beach can be accessed solely by boat. Banderas Bay is a remarkable biodiversity hot spot in the Mexican Pacific Coast.

And if you want to take a break from the sex...

Xinalani is wonderfully situated for other mind-body-soul adventures as well.

Optional excursions include: surfing, snorkeling, whale watching, swimming with wild dolphins, jungle hiking, horseback riding, bird watching and boat trips.

Unparalleled, raw beauty greets you everywhere.

The Jungle Spa is always available for massage therapies, facials, holistic rituals or body scrubs.

FAQ:

SAFETY

What about safety in Mexico? Is it safe to go to Xinalani?

Though Americans + Canadians have been advised in recent years to travel to Mexico with caution, the Puerto Vallarta area hasn't been as affected by crime as other regions of Mexico. Also, there are no roads to Xinalani! Xinalani is accessible only by water, making the resort peaceful, secluded, and a real pain for anyone with nefarious intentions to get to.

INTERNET & COMMUNICATION

Is there Wi-Fi?

Yes. No additional cost is required. Wi-Fi is available from the reception/lounge area, the dining patio, the beach, the sundeck, and from most eco-chic suites (1-7). Eco-Chic Suites 14 and 15 do not have Wi-Fi coverage.

Xinalani is located in a remote jungle area with no road access, hence no land telecommunications. For that matter, we had to build a complex VoIP gateway from our office downtown to send the phone and internet signal to the resort. This technology is quite new and it's sometimes unstable, hence not 100% efficient. Don't expect to have the same Wi-Fi service reliability as if you were at your office.

Of course, every guest has different needs or responsibilities, but if there's no emergency, we try to encourage our guests to remain unplugged, it helps to detox and enjoy a deeper retreat and a greater sense of wellness through your retreat. During your stay at Xinalani, procure using the internet only with full awareness of what you're using it for.

Is there cellular phone service?

We do have a decent cell phone coverage from major Mexican operators. Guests reported that both AT&T and Verizon work all right.

LOCATION AND TRANSPORT

How far away from the airport is Xinalani?

Xinalani stands about 20 miles south of Puerto Vallarta Airport (PVR), it will take you no longer than 45 min to get to the resort from the airport. Check out Xinalani on Google Maps to get a sense of location and distances.

How do I get to Xinalani?

In order to get to Xinalani, you will have to take a boat.

My arrival flight lands at 7:30 pm, can I still make the last boat?

We do recommend our guests to select an arrival flight that lands no later than 4:30 pm, it makes things much easier for the boat transfer. Our last boat service leaves at 6:30 pm from a little fisherman town called Boca de Tomatlán at 45 min south of Puerto Vallarta Airport (PVR).

Traveling by boat at night is not recommended for safety reasons. For that matter, if you cannot be at the pier at 6:30pm we recommend you spend the night downtown and catch an early boat in the morning.

My departure flight leaves at 7:00 am, How can I be at the airport at 5:00 am?

We do recommend our guests to select a departure flight that takes off no earlier than 11:00 am, it makes things much easier for the boat transfer. Our first boat service leaves at 7:00 am from Xinalani.

CHECK IN & CHECK OUT

At what time can we check-in?

Starting at 4:00 pm

At what time is check out?

Between 7:00 am and 11:30 am

FOOD & BEVERAGES

We need animal protein; we like to eat meat, is that possible at Xinalani?

Yes, if advised with enough anticipation, we can include chicken in your menu, as well as more fresh fish, and seafood. An additional charge of $25 per day and per person apply to all special requests.

We are vegan, raw foodist, etc? How's your menu?

Although we try to cater to mainstream yogis (vegetarian with fish and sea food), our menu may be adapted to our guest's needs, please send us your specifics at least two weeks before your arrival. We can cater to vegan, raw, gluten free requests. An additional charge of $25 per day and per person apply to all special requests.

Ask us for a sample of our Menu to have an idea of what will be served during your stay at Xinalani.

I'm allergic to gluten, mushrooms, peanuts, etc..

We can help you, let us know of your food allergy 2 weeks at least before your arrival to the retreat, and we'll make sure your diet restrictions will be catered to. An additional charge of $25 per day and per person apply to all special requests.

From the Sexually Enlightened

Most of my sex/intimacy clients tend to value their privacy. As do I.
The bulk of the testimonials I receive are quietly anonymous.

Except Britt. She's not shy.

Post-salon/VIP weekend praise

“One of the most powerful experiences of my life. During our first dinner meeting, Kim went deeper with me than I’ve gone with anyone. She drew things out of me I didn’t know were there, let alone how to get to them. I’ve had pivotal, life-changing revelations in our time together. She’s amazing and gifted. Seeing her will alter you forever.”

- RJ, San Diego. He buys and sells territories.

“My wife and I have been happily married (mostly!) for three decades. We work at it. Despite being in a great place, Kim gave us an arsenal of tools to use for the long haul. She elevated our intimacy and sex life tenfold. We’ve seen a number of professionals in our time—she’s the best. Hands down.”

- T.T. + R.T., Boca Raton. He CEO’s things. She nurtures things.

“I was ready to leave my wife. On the brink. We decided to give it one more shot, after coming across Kim. She “feng shui-ed” our relationship, as she calls it, leaving us with an entirely new one in her wake. Her insights and support span spiritual/sexual/philosophical boundaries, synthesized into this wild little package. She’s our spiritual/sexual guru.”

~ S.K. + J.M., New York. He’s into software. She writes.

“The weekend was out-of-this world. Kim orchestrated a powerful, beautiful, heart-opening experience for us. Like a great yoga instructor, she was there to inspire, enlighten and guide, while staying in tune with us and giving slight adjustments. She held us, but let us grow in our own way. Worth the investment, many times over.”

~ B.W. + L.W., London. She models. He plays music.
